

DECLARATION

I hereby solemnly declare that this thesis represents my own work and that it has not previously been submitted for a degree at this or any other University.

Durga Rani Sarker

(Candidate)

DEDICATION

To my late mother Anjana Sarker who rescued me from early marriage and encouraged me to continue with education.

CERTIFICATE OF APPROVAL

This thesis, of Durga Rani Sarker, is approved in fulfilment of the requirements for the award of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Sociology of Education by the University of Zambia.

Signed:_____ Date:_____

Signed:_____ Date:_____

Signed:_____ Date:_____

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to sincerely thank all the people and institutions, who in one way or another made this study possible. However, the following deserve special appreciation:

Dr. Sophie Kasonde Ng'andu, my supervisor, for her academic guidance and support who read my numerous revisions and helped some sense of the confusion. This work would not have reached the present form without her encouragement and supervision.

Dr. Oswell Chakulimba, the co-supervisor, who offered guidance and support. In addition, as head of the department, he helped me in getting admission and always encouraged me for writing this thesis.

Dr. Kamini Krishna, a lecturer of History department at the University of Zambia (UNZA), who always provided me mental and academic support to complete my thesis.

Thanks also go to Mr. Jonathan Chibaula who tirelessly edited and revised several tables and graphs in the report.

My husband Subrata Chakrabarty and son Aritra Chakrabarty who always encouraged me to complete this. Thanks to my husband too who provided financial support for the study.

My friends who endured this long process with me, always offering support and inspiration to complete this research.

Last but not least, the University Grants Commission of Bangladesh who approved my study leave to continue and complete the study.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Notice of Copy right
Declaration.....	i
Dedication.....	ii
Certificate of approval.....	iii
Acknowledgements.....	iv
List of tables.....	xi
List of figures.....	xii
List of maps.....	xiii
Acronyms.....	xiv
Abstract.....	xv
CHAPTERONE: INTRODUCTION.....	1
1.0 Introduction.....	1
1.1 Background.....	1
1.2 The Concept of Adult Education.....	3
1.2.1 Literacy and Illiteracy.....	5
1.2.2 The Concept of Adult Education in Bangladesh.....	6
1.2.3 The Aim of Adult Education.....	8
1.3 The Role of Adult Education in the Society.....	9
1.3.1 Adult Education as a Life Long Process.....	10
1.4 Women and Adult Education.....	10
1.5 Gender and Adult Education.....	12
1.6 Statement of the Problem.....	13
1.7 Purpose of the Study.....	14
1.8 Research Objectives.....	15
1.9 Research Questions.....	15
1.10 Significance of the Study.....	16
1.11 Conceptual Framework.....	16
1.11.1 The Libratory Model.....	17
1.11.2 The Gender Model.....	17
1.11.3 Feminist Pedagogy and Adult Learning.....	17
1.11.4 Implications for Practice.....	20

CHAPTER 2: THE CONTEXT OF ADULT EDUCATION AND STRATEGIES IN BANGLADESH.....	23
2.0 Introduction.....	23
2.1 Country Background.....	23
2.2 Educational Context.....	26
2.3 Strategies for Adult Education.....	26
2.3.1 The Constitutional Obligation.....	27
2.3.2 Global Commitment.....	27
2.3.3 Primary Schools Taking Over Act.....	28
2.3.4 Compulsory Primary Education Act.....	28
2.3.5 Movement of Adult Education.....	28
2.3.6 GOB Initiative to Increase Adult Education.....	30
2.3.7 Village Literacy Centre.....	31
2.3.8 Primary and Mass Education Division.....	31
2.3.9 The Creating Process of Non-Formal Education.....	32
2.3.10 The Directorate of Non –Formal Education.....	32
2.3.11 Community Participation in NFE.....	33
2.3.12 Measure Taken to Increase Participation.....	34
2.3.13 Approach of Adult Literacy Programme.....	35
2.3.14 Delivery and Content.....	36
2.3.15 Adult Educator/Facilitators.....	37
2.3.16 Recruitment Process.....	37
2.3.17 Training for Adult Educator Facilitator’s	37
2.3.18 Post Literacy and Continuing Education (PLCE).....	38
2.4 Adult Literacy Programmes Conducted under NGOs.....	39
2.4.1 Dhaka Ahsania Mission (DAM).....	39
2.4.2 PROSHIKA.....	42
2.4.3 Bangladesh Rural Avancement Commette(BRAC).....	43
2.4.4 Action Aid Bangladesh.....	44
CHAPTER THREE: LITERATURE REVIEW.....	46
3.0 Introduction.....	46
3.1 The History of Adult Education in other countries (outside of	46

Bangladesh) in Earlier to Date.....
3.1.1 Adult Education in the Early Stage.....	46
3.1.2 Adult Education in the Middle Ages.....	47
3.1.3 Adult Education in the Mediaeval Ages.....	47
3.1.4 Adult Education in England.....	48
3.1.5 Adult Education in Europe.....	49
3.1.6 Adult Education in Turkey.....	50
3.1.7 Adult Education in Asia and Africa.....	51
3.2 The History of Adult Education in Bangladesh.....	51
3.2.1 Adult Education in Colonial Period (1918 – 1947).....	52
3.2.2 Adult Literacy Movement in the Pakistan Period (1948 – 1971)....	53
3.2.3 Role of Influential Characters in Eradication of Illiteracy.....	55
3.2.4 Post Independent Period (1972-2009).....	58
3.2.5 The Revolution of NGOs Programmes for Adult Education.....	68
CHAPTER FOUR: METHODOLOGY.....	73
4.0 Introduction.....	73
4.1 Research Design.....	73
4.2 Study Population.....	73
4.3 Sample Size.....	73
4.4 Sampling Procedures.....	76
4.5 Instruments for data Collection.....	77
4.6 Data Collection Procedures.....	77
4.7 Data Analysis.....	78
4.8 Limitations of the Study.....	78
CHAPTER FIVE: PRESENTATION OF FINDINGS.....	79
5.0 Introduction.....	79
5.1 Government Policies for Adult Literacy, Self-expectation, Self- realization and Self-development Information.....	79
5.1.1 Motivated Process of the Learner.....	79
5.1.2 Self-exception and Achievement of the Respondents.....	80
5.1.3 Change of Social Status and Life style.....	81
5.1.4 Sustainability of Learning.....	82
5.1.5 Self- satisfaction and Realization.....	83

5.1.6	Age for Adult Literacy.....	83
5.1.7	New literate's Views on Adult Education.....	84
5.1.8	Being Illiterate as a Problem.....	86
5.2	Government and NGOs Approaches in Adult Literacy since Independence in 1972.....	88
5.2.1	Government Approaches in Adult Literacy since Independence in 1972.....	88
5.2.2	NGOs Approaches in Adult Literacy since Independence in 1972	90
5.3	Factors that Hinder the Success of Adult Education for Women in Bangladesh.....	91
5.3.1	Place of the Learning Centre.....	91
5.3.2	Distance to the Learning Centre.....	92
5.3.3	Preference of the Learning Time.....	93
5.3.4	Duration of the Course.....	94
5.3.5	Gram Shikkah Milan Kendras (GSMKs): Village Education Centres.....	96
5.3.6	Early Marriage and Marital Status of the Respondents.....	97
5.3.7	Occupational Structure of the Respondents.....	98
5.3.8	Secondary Occupation of the Respondents.....	100
5.3.9	Status of Formal Schooling of the New Literate and Illiterate Women.....	101
5.4	Socio-economic Factors which Obstruct Eradication of Illiteracy, Especially Among Women.....	102
5.4.1	Religion of the Respondents.....	102
5.4.2	Education Levels of the Respondents' Husbands.....	104
5.4.3	Education Levels of the Father's of unmarried and Other Categories	105
5.4.4	Household Size.....	105
5.4.5	School Going Status of Above Five Years Old Children.....	106
5.4.6	Reasons for Not Sending Children to School.....	110
5.4.7	Household Income and Expenditure.....	107
5.4.8	Income Sources of new Literate and Illiterate Women Households	109
5.4.9	Expenditure of new Literate and Illiterate Women Households by	110

source.....
5.4.10 Household Landownership Pattern.....	111
5.5 Future Prospects of Adult Literacy for Women in Bangladesh.....	111
5.5.1 Type and Group of Literacy Centres.....	111
5.5.2 Attendance or Participation.....	112
5.5.3 Quality of the Teachers.....	112
5. 5.4 Environment of the Education Centres.....	113
5.5.5 Continuing Education.....	113
5.5.6 Attitude of New Literate and Illiterate Women on Literacy Courses.....	114
5. 5.7 Obstacles and Opportunities to Join in Adult Literacy Courses.....	116
5. 5.8 Knowledge Levels of the Respondents on Social Issues.....	116
CHAPTER SIX: THE DISCUSSION.....	118
6.0 Introduction.....	118
6.1 Government Policies for Adult Literacy, Self-expectation, Self- realization and Self-development Information.....	118
6.2 Government and NGOs Approaches in Adult Literacy Since Independence in 1972.....	122
6.3 Factors that Hinder the Success of Adult Education for Women in Bangladesh.....	125
6.4 Socio Economic Factors which Obstruct Eradication of Illiteracy Especially Among Women	127
6.5 The Prospects of Adult Education.....	131
CHAPTER SEVEN: CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATIONS 135
7.0 Introduction.....	135
7.1 Government Policies for Adult Literacy, Self-expectation, Self-realization and Self-development Information.....	135
7.2 Government and NGOs Approaches in Adult Literacy Since Independence in 1972.....	135
7.3 Factors that Hinder the Success of Adult Education for Women in Bangladesh.....	137
7.4 Socio Economic Factors which Obstruct Eradication of Illiteracy Especially Among Women.....	138

7.5 The Prospects of Adult Education.....	139
7.6 Recommendations.....	140
7.7 Recommendations for Future Research.....	142
References.....	143
Appendix 1 Questionnaire for new literate respondents.....	159
Appendix 2 Questionnaire for illiterate respondents.....	169
Appendix 3 Questionnaire for Key Informants Interview.....	175

LIST OF TABLES

Table 2.1	Adult literacy (15+) rates.....	26
Table 3.1	Adult literacy target (2005, 2010, 2015).....	66
Table 3.2	Adult literacy by age group and gender (2005, 2010, 2015).....	66
Table 5.1	Mean age of the respondents.....	84
Table 5.2	Implementing organizations of the adult literacy centres in the field level.....	91
Table 5.3	Course duration for the new literate women.....	93
Table 5.4	Division wise weekly attendance in Gram Shikkah Milan Kendras (GSMKs).....	97
Table 5.5	Marital status of the respondents.....	98
Table 5.6	Religion of the respondents.....	103
Table 5.7	Education levels of the husbands of the respondents.....	104
Table 5.8	Mean average household size by division.....	106
Table 5.9	School going status of >5 children.....	107
Table 5.10	Household income and expenditure by division.....	108
Table 5.11	Source of income of the new literate and Illiterate women households.....	109
Table 5.12	Reasons for illiterate women to join literacy courses.....	114
Table 5.13	Knowledge of the new literate and illiterate women on social issues	117

LIST OF FIGURES

	Page
Figure 5.1 Motivation sources of the learners.....	80
Figure 5.2 Change in social dignity and life style.....	81
Figure 5.3 Use of new learning.....	82
Figure 5.4 Percentage distribution of new literate women by their views as regard to adult education.....	85
Figure 5.5 Reasons why illiterate women should join adult literacy.....	86
Figure 5.6 Nature of the social problems faced by illiterate women.....	87
Figure 5.7 Adult literacy centres.....	93
Figure 5.8 Illiterate women's choice of the distance of adult literacy centres from their homes.....	93
Figure 5.9 Percentage of new literate women who reported the preferred time for adult literacy.....	93
Figure 5.10 Preference of the learning time by the illiterate women.....	94
Figure 5.11 Expected course duration by illiterate women.....	96
Figure 5.12 Primary occupation of the respondents.....	99
Figure 5.13 Involvement in income generating issues.....	100
Figure 5.14 Secondary occupations of the respondents.....	100
Figure 5.15 Reasons for dropping-out from the formal school by the respondents.....	102
Figure 5.16 Education level of the fathers of unmarried women.....	105
Figure 5.17 Reasons for not sending children to school.....	117
Figure 5.18 Expenditure of new literate and illiterate women Households.....	110
Figure 5.19 Household landownership pattern.....	111
Figure 5.20 Course completion status of the new literate respondents.....	113
Figure 5.21 Reasons to continue adult education.....	115
Figure 5.22 Reasons for not suggesting to join adult literacy course.....	115

LIST OF MAPS

Page

The Political Map of Bangladesh.....	24
--------------------------------------	----

ACRONYMS

ACNEA	Atlanta Conventional of the National Education Centre
BLCs	Basic Learning Needs or Competencies
BRAC	Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee
CBA	Centre Based Approach
CBO	Community Based Organization
DAM	Dhaka Ahsania Mission
DCO	District Coordinator Officer
DG	Director General
DNFE	Directorate of Non-Formal Education Programme
DPE	Directorate of Primary Education
E9	Nine Highly Populated Developing Country
EFA	Education for All
ESCAP	Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific
FFYP	Fifth Five Year Plan
FGD	Focus Group Discussion
GOB	Government of Bangladesh
GRMK	Gram Shiksha Millan Kendra
HQ	Head Quarters
ILEA	Institute of Literacy and Adult Education
INFEP	Integrated Non-Formal Education Programme
KC	Kishori Club
KII	Key Informants Interview
LEDC	Least Economically Development Country
MDG	Millennium Development Goals
MoE	Ministry of Education
MOPME	Ministry of Primary and Mass Education
NEP	National Education Policy
NFE	Non-Formal Education
NGO	Non Governmental Organization
PDA	Primer Distribution Approach
PLCE	Post Literacy and Continuing Education
PLCEHD	Post Literacy and Continuing Education Human Development
PM	Prime Minister
PMED	Primary and Mass Education Division
PRSP	Poverty Reduction Strategy Paper
REFELECT	Regenerated Freirean Literacy Through Empowering Community
Three R's	Relevance, Relatedness and Responsibility
TLM	Total Literacy Movement
UNESCO	United National Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization
UPE	Universal Primary Education
VBs	Village Federations
WCEFA	World Conference on Education for All

ABSTRACT

The purpose of the study was to investigate the problems of adult education for women in Bangladesh and its prospects for them.

A descriptive survey design was used in conducting this research. Primary data was collected through questionnaires, checklists, and Focus Group Discussions to a sample of people selected to accurately represent the population under study, while secondary data was collected through reviewing the relevant literature.

This study was grounded on “Feminist Pedagogy Theory” which states that the feminist classroom – should be a place where there is sense of struggle, where there is visible acknowledgement of the union of theory and practice, where people work together as teachers and students to overcome the estrangement and alienation that have become so much the norm in the contemporary university. Most importantly, feminist pedagogy should engage students in the learning process that makes the world “more rather than less real

The study used mainly qualitative methods in the collection of data. The study used both qualitative and quantitative methods. The target population comprised all illiterate and literate women in Bangladesh

The research was conducted among the sample of 212 illiterate and 206 new literate women and the government and non-governmental organizations which were involved in adult literacy and education sector.

The analysis of study findings revealed that there was lack of traditions of mass literacy programmes in Bengal in the early period and the period from 1948 to 1971. Shortly after independence in 1972, there was a national literacy campaign, However, initially the programmes were mainly taken up by the youth and men from the middle classes, and the methods and materials used were unsophisticated. A more significant change occurred after the famine in 1974, when many NGOs began working in the literacy campaign. As a part of ‘relief’ efforts, this focus shifted from individuals to a ‘community’ approach to benefit women as a target group.

There were some problems to increase literacy among women, despite the effort of government and NGOs, as there were very few experienced staff, reliance on local improvisation for the school teaching materials, discontinuation of literacy programme, un-accountability and lack of a transparency implementing authority, extreme poverty, cultural and religious conservativeness. As such, the result was less successful than the programmes had expected to achieve. The primary data of the study showed some positive changes in terms of social and economic development among new literate women compared to the illiterate women. The contribution of adult literacy in increasing social awareness is very effective. However, a high number of illiterate women still existed in Bangladesh who needed adult literacy for their better prospects.

The study concluded that unless the new-literate women have opportunities of using their newly acquired knowledge, it would be almost impossible for them to retain the literacy level attained. Consequently, there was an urgent need for an effective post-literacy programme where new literate women should get skills development training which would help them in income generation.

Based on the findings, the study recommended that an adult literacy programme should extend over a period of at least six months. The classes should meet five or six days a week for, at least two hours a day. One Gram Shikkha Milan Kendra (GSMK) should be established in each village which should be attached to Primary Schools. Gradually it should be upgraded to Loke Kendra (Community Centre) or Public Library.

The teaching force of adult literacy should include unemployed persons who at least completed grade 12 or the retired primary and high school teachers. In addition there was need for some livelihood-related skilled trainers who could help in increasing income generating opportunities of the new literate women. In recruiting the teachers for adult literacy programme, females should get preference. All newly recruited teachers should receive foundation training for 15 days and later on refresher training for 10 days.

Motivation is a very important part in increasing enrolment of adult education. Therefore, the mass media can play a more effective role in motivating the illiterate women. Radio and Television should devote at least half an hour a day to NFE and Adult Literacy Programmes.

DNFE should run adult literacy programmes through their own management and assist other government organizations to implement their programmes. Similarly, NGOs should run adult literacy programme through their own management following the same curriculum.